VOL. 3, NO. 106 PRICE FIVE CENTS.

HERE'S THE REVISED LIST

RESULT OF THE WORK OF THE COUNTY BOARD OF APPEALS.

SOME MATERIAL REDUCTIONS WERE MADE

Those Who Secured Them Made Affidavit That the Amounts Assessed Were More Than the Property Owned.

The county court met yesterday and in addition to other business transacted decided to allow the Democrat-Sentinel access to the list of tax reductions made by the recent board of appeals.

It will be remembered that when the equalization board met it raised the personal taxes of very many citizens of the county to such an extent as to occasion considerable remark, and the Democrat-Sentinel published a list containing the names of those against whom the greatest raises were made, together with the amounts of the old and new assessments.

When the board of appeals had concluded its work and adjourned, the paper endeavored to obtain a list of the revisions made, but was unable to do so at the time.

Yesterday, however, the county court, after a thorough discussion of the matter, decided to grant the permission asked for, and today, therefore, the list of revisions is printed herewith:

Judge McAninch wishes it understood that he did not object to the publication of this later list, especially as the first had been given publicity, but said that he did think that the publication of the first list was a mistake, inasmuch as it might tend to harm the work of fixing adequate assessments on all citizens of the county.

There were very few changes made by the board of appeals, but some of them were material ones. All were made after the party interested had made affidavit to the amount of his possessions. The changes made follow, the first amount being the assessment fixed by the board of equalization and the latter the sum fixed by the board of appeals.

The county court and the Board of Equalization have succeeded in assessing taxes against much property that has hitherto escaped, and the members feel confident that if they get hold of that which is even now not paying what it justly should, they can lower the county levy at least 10 cents on the $100 valuation. They are anxious that all tax-paying citizens aid them in the endeavor.

Russell Camp, Woodmen, Meeting.
Russell camp No. 2065, Modern Woodmen of America, met in regular session Monday night. J. H. Weider was initiated into the order and the transfer card of Eli W. Whithouse, of Boonville, was accepted.

The following committee was appointed to arrange for memorial ser-VICES to be held on June 6: William Craig, J. M. Wood, Noah Shear, F. W. Lucking, J. H. Lankenau.

The matter of giving a dance in the near future was deferred until the meeting next Monday night.

State Fair Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Missouri State fair, which was to have been held at the office of Secretary J. T. Stinson tomorrow, has been postponed until May 12.

Will Play at Pleasant Hill.

The Star Grocery company's baseball team, managed by Frank Heisley, will go to Pleasant Hill Sunday to cross bats with the team of that place.

HE TRIED TO BREAK JAIL

ALLEGED HORSE THIEF CONFINED IN THE CITY BASTILE SAWS BARS.

OFFICER WOOD DISCOVERED HIM AT WORK

Williams Alias Wilson Had Nearly Effected His Get-Away—He Is Charged With Stealing Team From Sedalia Liveryman.

One of the boldest attempts at jail-breaking ever perpetrated in this city was made by Charles Williams, alias C. J. Wilson, alias C. J. Miller, an alleged horse thief, in the city jail, last night.

Just as the prisoner was completing his work which would give him access to the corridor, after which escape is easy, Officer Howard Wood, a night patrolman, visited the jail on his regular rounds.

He heard sounds, resembling those of someone sawing steel, and on investigating found the alleged horse thief at his work. Two of the finest steel saws manufactured, also two high grade files were found on Williams' person.

Chief of Police W. H. Boulton was summoned from his home, and after making a thorough search for other instruments removed the prisoner to another cell.

Williams was incarcerated in cell No. 4. This cell, like all the others, is locked with a large iron lock. The circular iron spring bar, used to fasten the lock, had been sawed by Williams, who had finished the task with the exception of about one-eighth of an inch when he was detected.

The bar had been sawed in two places and was just ready to fall apart when Officer Wood discovered the prisoner's attempt to gain his liberty.

On searching the prisoner, the two files and two saws were found in a cloth sack, which was tied around the prisoner's neck, on the inside of his underwear, being in such a position as not to be discovered when he was undergoing a searching process at the hands of the police.

Williams was arraigned before H. M. Gresham, ex-officio justice of the peace, this morning, and at the request of Prosecuting Attorney Dow was removed to the county jail, to await preliminary examination on the charge of attempted jail-breaking.

In addition to that charge, Williams is also awaiting examination on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy from William Rector last Friday, for which offense he had been incarcerated in the bastille.

Had Williams succeeded in sawing the lock off the cell he would have been afforded access to the jail corridor, after which he might have escaped easily, likewise three other prisoners, who were arrested last night for possessing burglars' tools.

When confronted by the police just after his detection, Williams unsophisticatedly remarked that he had ruined the lock and would be willing to pay for the damage he had done.

Had a Mad Dog Scare.

Residents of Sixteenth street and Quincy avenue suffered a mad dog scare this morning when a cur dog, presumably rabid, acted queerly, biting and snapping at other dogs in that locality. Several attempts were made to catch the canine, but it escaped.

No News from Missing Boy.

Up to date the police have heard nothing of Ernest Robinson, the 12-year-old son of Frank Robinson, a Missouri Pacific hostler helper, who disappeared from his home less than a fortnight ago.

"ALAS! POOR YORICK—I KNEW HIM WELL"

DEATH OF J. M. WHERLEY

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF COUNTY PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING.

HE HAD LIVED HERE FORTY THREE YEARS

Was a Confederate Veteran, and Came From Virginia in 1865—Leaves Wife and Six Children—Mrs. Wherley Ill.

J. M. Wherley, for forty-three years a resident of Pettis county, died from asthma at his home, five miles east of Sedalia, at 2:20 o'clock this morning, after a three days' illness.

Mr. Wherley was considerably worse yesterday, and the attending physician, Dr. Edward Albers, of Smithton, was summoned, but in spite of medical attention he died at the hour stated.

Mr. Wherley was born in Virginia. In 1866 he came to Pettis county, and spent many years engaged in farming.

He had been a member of the Confederate army and always boasted of the fact very proudly, considering it one of the most vital events of his career.

He was united in marriage twenty-eight years ago to Mrs. Martha E. Smiley, who survives him, also the following children: Mrs. Clabe Cline, of Otterville; Mrs. C. A. Merritt, of Muscotah, Kan.; A. A. Wherley, of east of Sedalia; T. E. Wherley, of Otterville; J. V. Wherley, of Smithton, and W. A. Wherley, of Turlock, Cal.

Mr. Wherley was 76 years old. He belonged to the Southern Methodist church.

On account of the critical illness of Mrs. Wherley, deceased's widow, who for the past two weeks has been very low with diabetes and paralysis, there will be short services at the family residence at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and regular funeral services at the Salem Methodist church at 11 o'clock.

The Rev. J. F. Caskey, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church, South, will officiate, and burial will be made in the Salem burial ground.

MR. SMITH VISITED HERE

Vice President of Traction Company Spent Day in Sedalia.

Dwight Smith, vice president of the Edward M. Deane Co., of Grand Rapids, Mich., owners of the Sedalia Light and Traction Co., was a visitor in the city today, and went to Kansas City this afternoon.

While here Mr. Smith favored the Democrat-Sentinel with a call.

The purpose of Mr. Smith's visit was to consider a number of improvements which the company is contemplating, among them being the extension of the gas mains to various parts of the city, also for the extension of the street car tracks, particularly to Southeast Sedalia, where no facilities are now afforded.

Mr. Smith made a number of recommendations, which will necessarily have to receive the ratification of the officials before carried out.

Case Continued Indefinitely.

The case of Herman Stout, charged with disturbing the peace of his wife, was continued indefinitely by Judge J. B. Riekman this afternoon.

THIRTEEN TURKS HANGED

WERE SENTENCED TO DEATH BY MILITARY COURTS FOR MURDER.

MAJOR YOUSSEF AND HIS SON VICTIMS

Were Precinct Under Old Sultan's Reign and Killed a Syrian Deputy in Front of the Parliament House.

Constantinople, May 4.—Thirteen civilians and soldiers, sentenced by the military courts to death for murder, were hanged in different parts of Constantinople at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Major Youssef, his son and three other men, who killed the Syrian deputy, Emir Mohammed Aslan, in front of the parliament, were executed on the spot where they committed the crime. Five others were hanged at the entrance of the ministry of war, and three men at the Stamboul end of the Galata bridge.

At the breast of each criminal had been pinned a large placard in Turkish, setting forth the sentence of the court. Around the foot of the gibbets on the bridge the early morning buying of fruits, flowers and vegetables proceeded as usual, while the bodies were in plain sight of the great crowds that made their way over the bridge between the Bosphorus and Galata.

Major Youssef was commandant of the first battalion of the Seventh regiment. Among the non-commissioned officers executed was Hamid Bin Yehar, a sergeant of the fourth battalion of the Saloniki Chasseurs. The men executed on Galata bridge were guilty of the murder of Lieutenant Flis.

BORAH FOR INCOME TAX

SENATOR FROM IDAHO MADE STRONG SPEECH FOR IT YESTERDAY.

ROOSEVELT'S POLICIES MUST STAND

Otherwise, Said the Senator, the Republican Party Will Go Down to Defeat—Gave Aldrich Organization Warning of Fate.

Washington, May 4.—In a speech in the senate yesterday afternoon in favor of the Cummins income tax amendment, Senator Borah, of Idaho, made a vigorous defense of the Roosevelt policies and asserted that if the republican party should abandon them it would be defeated.

The senator's remarks were evidently evoked by the attitude of the senate's leaders, who have been denouncing the income tax as socialistic, democratic and other dreadful things, and have been assuming that President Roosevelt was, of course, a dangerous radical, of whom the country was well rid. Borah cited the message of Roosevelt to congress in 1906 in favor of a graduated income tax. He continued:

"These are the words of the man about whose policies the thoughts of the people of the country have centered for the last seven years, and without whose leadership the republican party would have gone down to defeat.

"Without continued and faithful adherence to the Roosevelt policies, the republican party can not continue in power. No man is politically so shortsighted or politically blind as the man who believes that the steamer Hamburg carried away the policies and principles, the public interest, the aroused public conscience and the surging public concern which that remarkable man bequeathed to his countrymen."

The senate listened with close attention, but its rules forbid any demonstration of applause or disapproval. The Idaho senator is recognized as one of the able men of the senate, and as an effective speaker. His declaration was generally accepted as another warning to the Aldrich organization that it will not be able to continue its control without a fight.

Borah's efforts were directed to showing that the income tax was traditionally a republican measure, advocated by such men as Alexander Hamilton, Abraham Lincoln, Oliver P. Morton and John Sherman. His legal argument was reserved for today. The speech was interrupted several times by Senator Beveridge, who was at last called upon by Senator Clay, of Georgia, to state his own position on the income tax. The statement was long and involved. Clay jumped up again:

"If the senator from Idaho will pardon the interruption," he said, "I would like to take time to ask the senator from Indiana to tell definitely where he stands on this measure."

"I wouldn't like to wait that long," Borah replied.

P. E. O. to Meet With Miss Gold.

The P. E. O. society will meet with Miss Hattie Gold at her home, on West Seventh street, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

FAVORS WHIPPING POST

STATE SENATE YESTERDAY REFUSED TO ABOLISH MODE OF PUNISHMENT.

ARGUED THAT THE CONVICTS NEEDED IT

One Senator Said Even the Discussion of the Bill Would Have Bad Effect Upon the inmates of the "Pen."

Jefferson City, May 4.—The senate refused yesterday afternoon to pass the bill by Senator Eads to abolish the whipping post in the state penitentiary. The gallery was full and the senators debated the bill at length. Eads, the author of the bill, said the whipping post is brutal and that the whippings given some convicts have been inhuman.

Senator Humphreys said the bill was one that not only ought not to pass, but ought not to be discussed. The convicts in the penitentiary read the papers and it incites trouble whenever there is a discussion of this kind. Only a few days ago a convict tried to kill a guard and the guard had to kill him for self protection.

"Every penitentiary has some kind of physical punishment," he said. "In some states they use water cure and in others they lay refractory convicts on a barrel and give them a shock of electricity."

Senator Gardner said not much whipping is done in the penitentiary. There are men, he argued, who can only be managed by physical fear. For that reason, he was unwilling to interfere with a long established custom of the institution.

Senator Wilson declared that the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth is a well managed institution that never uses the whipping post.

"The whipping post," he said, "smacks too much of the knout of Russia, and the lash of the slave driver to have a place in modern American affairs. It is not the mere pain from the application of the lash, but the stripe of degradation that burns into the soul of the man that does the permanent harm. The cuts on the man's back will heal, but the hatred in his heart will not, and it will become a cause of resentment that helps to make him a worse citizen afterward instead of a better one."

On a roll call the bill was four votes short of enough to pass.

RED MEN ARE WORKING

Want Sedalia Selected as Location for the Order's Home.

The members of Apache tribe No. 55 and Wichita tribe No. 108, I. O. R. M. are formulating plans for a successful campaign to land Sedalia as the place for the state meeting of the order in 1910, when they assemble at the great council meeting at Boonville, on May 18.

Another matter, which the local Red Men contemplate landing, is the erection in Sedalia of a Red Men home, to cost approximately $25,000.

At Monday night's meeting of Wichita tribe a committee consisting of Lawrence Laupheimer, C. D. Prentice and Clem Honkomp, Sr., was appointed to meet jointly with a committee from Apache tribe to draft resolutions to be presented at the great council at Boonville, asking that Sedalia be selected as the next place of meeting, also that the Queen City be selected as the place for the erection of the Red Men home.

The latter matter is in the hands of the executive committee of the order, and whatever town secures the home will have to furnish a suitable site gratis, which the two tribes here are willing to do.

WORK ON THE BIG CANAL

IS SATISFACTORY TO THE MEMBERS OF THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

THEY HAVE RETURNED FROM THEIR VISIT

Sea Level Advocates Now Say That They Are Converted to the Lock Type—The Ocean Tides Did the Work.

New York, May 4.—Twenty-six representatives, members of a special congressional committee, sent to Panama by President Taft to report on the progress of the work on the canal, arrived in New York yesterday on the Panama. Representative J. A. Goulden, of the Bronx, chairman of the committee, said that with a few exceptions all the members had been agreeably surprised with the progress of the work.

"Many of us were of the opinion when we left for the canal on April 14 that the sea level plan was more desirable than the lock project," said Mr. Goulden. "A week's study of the conditions, however, changed our opinions, and we are to report that the plan decided upon by President Taft is the greater of the two."

"Every assurance was given to us by the engineers in the canal zone that the foundations of the Gatun dam would prove more than strong enough to hold the load. These foundations are at a depth of 180 feet, and in some places more than that. Estimates by our experts show that to change the plan of construction from the lock to the sea level plan would entail an additional cost of $200,000,000. Also, it would delay the completion of the canal for ten years beyond the date now set by the engineers for the work to be finished. The canal will be completed inside of five years, we believe."

Representative H. F. Conroy, of New York, said that the principal objection to the sea level plan was the action of the tide.

"The tide rises to a height of twenty feet on the Pacific side of the isthmus," he said, "while the rise on the opposite side is several feet less and at different times of day and night. I was a strong supporter of the sea level scheme until these facts were made clear to me by personal investigation. These conditions were convincing in my mind, and I now believe also that there is no reason for fear from the Gatun dam."

MAY BE PROFESSIONAL CROOKS

One Woman and Two Men Arrested With Burglars' Tools.

Arnette Patterson and his wife, Edna Patterson, and Frank Brennan, all of whom claim Kansas City as their home, were arrested late Monday by Fred Robertson, assistant chief of police, and J. H. Bower, a patrolman, and now occupy quarters in the county jail, awaiting trial in criminal court on the charge of possessing burglars' tools.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, while patrolling Ohio avenue, Officer Bower heard a pistol shot. Investigating, he learned it emanated from apartments over the chili parlors, 111 South Ohio avenue.

Accompanied by Assistant Chief Robertson, Officer Bower proceeded to ascertain the cause of the shooting and on entering the room occupied by the trio learned from Brennan that the gun had been accidentally discharged while he was cleaning it.

The three were taken to police headquarters and given a "sweating" process, but each declined to tell anything. Chief of Police Boulton then ordered their suit cases, three in number, brought to headquarters and when they were searched two large-sized revolvers, numerous skeleton keys, twenty-one cartridges, a chisel, files and other burglars' tools were found.

The trio was locked in jail until this morning, when they were arraigned before H. M. Gresham, ex-officio justice of the peace. Each was held to criminal court in the sum of $1,000, in default of which they were removed to the county jail.

The police are inclined to think that the prisoners furnished the saws and files used by Charles Williams, the alleged horse thief, in attempting to escape from jail this morning.

COMING HOME?

Back to Sedalia, the beautiful Queen City, and visit again the scenes of years gone by.

The Home Coming reunion will be held October 2, 3, 4 and 5, during the week of the Missouri state fair.

The semi-centennial of the founding of the city will be celebrated, and a grand welcome will be extended to all who gather to commemorate the event.

There are ex-Sedalians everywhere, but they will all be here again at the Home Coming.

CORNER IN WHEAT.

"In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," was written in the age when the world was young and history was in the making. And now, after the passing of 6,000 years, the old story is true. The recent grain situation has been one of marvel.
That one man without anything to back him but native shrewdness and a reasonable amount of money could double the cost of a loaf of bread seems incredible.

But Patten, the latest man to engineer a corner, did this very thing.
Yet, has not the law of God been set aside? Patten did not grow one single golden grain. His labor had not ploughed one field. His muscles did not garner a single wisp of straw.
And because the old rabbinical law can not be set at naught, his corner collapsed.

He may have taken much profit
thereby, yet when all is counted up,
it may not be of any great magnitude.

Primarily, the maintenance of a corner in the world's visible wheat supply depends on being able to buy all that is offered for sale. Beginning last autumn, when the seed time was, wheat secured what is known as a bad start. Drought and insects combined to retard its growth. This was general in many of the wheat centers of the world.

Through the winter Patten marshaled his forces—glittering dollars,
which bought up the visible supply.
His agents went forth and studied the situation at first hand and reported back that the outlook was bad.
Then came more purchases. Bad reports grew apace, and with the end of March, that month of terror to wheat growers, the story blackened.
The time for the coup was at hand.
The fight began in the open, and the wheat owners of the world sold their product. The price was artificially bolstered up because of a purchaser who must buy all to win.

The spotted, sorry looking wheat fields seemed his ally, and he made the market soar while children cried for bread. Yet, Omnipotence sat on his throne and watched puny man try to outwit nature. He sent cool winds, cloudy days and showers of rain. The wheat fields, blackened by winter's winds and torn by her frosts, were healed of their hurts and the young plants grew thrifty under the benefi-cent weather.

The prospects for a wheat crop brightened. The bears took courage.
The stream of golden wheat which they know will flow into the market
from hill and plain when the summer sun has kissed the waving fields into their fullness, was their hope.

No man can withstand nature when in bounteous mood. It ruined the Le-ter corner, the "Old Hatch" corner and practically every other of magnitude the world has ever seen, and those who eat bread in the sweat of their faces will again benefit by the law of the Universal Ruler.

THE INDIAN FARMER.

Prosperity has struck the Red man,
as it has the white. Redheart, among the Nez Percés, farming his several hundred acres with the latest improved machinery, and owning many cattle and horses, is not the exception.
Another northwest Indian making rapid advances is Louis Michita, a Coeur d'Alene, who owns and lives in as fine a ranch house as is to be found in the section, a commodious, two-storyed painted structure, with large barns adjacent, the entire premises fenced. Back of Louis' home is a small house, in which live the white help employed on the ranch. Between the poplar trees to one side of Louis'
house is an artificial pond, well stocked with fish.

Another prominent Coeur d'Alene is Tyler Toto, whose prosperity has not yet led him to cast aside the tribal tradition that women folk were intended for manual labor.

Tyler is very proud of the photograph showing himself harvesting wheat with the latest improved self-binder, and sees no reason to apologize for the presence of his wife and mother-in-law, who faithfully plod along shocking, while he sits and drives.

Many of the Coeur d'Alenes, says an article in the May Delineator, are wealthy, cultivating large tracts of land and reaping rich harvests of grain, oats being the favorite crop.

Louis Antelope is one of the richest farmers. He cultivates 1,000 acres and has a fine home, together with large sums of money loaned out at 8 per cent interest. He has excellent teams and improved machinery. Indian Daniel has 900 acres in cultivation on Rock creek. Indian Campbell cultivates 700 acres.

One of the leaders of the Red men in the northwest is Lancaster Spencer, head man of the Yakimas, who aspires to be the Booker T. Washington of his people. He occupies a comfortable home, one of the attractions of which is a well stocked library. In one corner is a writing desk, near it is a typewriter, on which Spencer is proficient; in another corner a homemade bookcase containing about 200
legal volumes.

ADVERTISING HINTS.

One of the most wonderful things about advertising is the stimulating effect it has on the advertiser, said
a speaker at a recent meeting of the Buffalo Ad club. Haven't you noticed that the merchant who advertises in strong and effective fashion is the one whose goods are well displayed in a spotless store, whose merchandise measures up to the highest standard?

We've all noticed it, of course. The consumer knows when he reads his daily newspaper that the merchant whose advertisements he sees maintain first class stores and handle desirable goods, because the advertising is the outward sign of the progressive spirit which makes ship-shod store keeping impossible.

The effectiveness of newspaper advertising is largely due to the fact that it helps the buyer to distinguish between up to date dealers and those in whose establishments modern business methods are not in vogue.

German aerial navigators will do well to keep out of France, if they can. The art of navigating the air has not yet reached such a stage of development that the aeronaut can ten with any definiteness when he starts where he is going to land. But if he shall and in France the customs officers will collect a duty of $120 on his balloon. If it is only of the average size, and he will be held personally until he can explain how he happened to drop down on French soil.

HICKS
THE GROCER,

Fig Pie with Whipped Cream Top.

Take one pound of fresh eggs, cut into small pieces, add one-half cup of seeded raisins, one-half cup of water or enough to barely cover them, then add one small cup of sugar, slowly boil from 15 to 20 minutes, stirring frequently; let filling and crust thoroughly cool before putting together. Cover with whipped cream or the beaten whites of three eggs and one cup of powdered sugar, lightly brown in oven.
For crust mix one-half cup of butter and one-half cup of sugar, and one cup of flour with one teaspoon of baking powder, then add one beaten egg; do not roll, but press into a buttered tin and bake.

Fish Fritters.

Cut some fileted sole into small pieces, and wipe dry with a clean cloth; put four ounces of flour in a basin, with a pinch of salt, and stir into it one tablespoonful of dissolved butter; beat this with a gill of tepid water till it is a thick batter. Just before frying add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, dip the pieces of fish into the batter and drop them into a saucepan of boiling fat. Drain on paper, and serve in a pyramid on a fish platter, and garnish with friend parsley and cut lemon.

Ginger Cream.

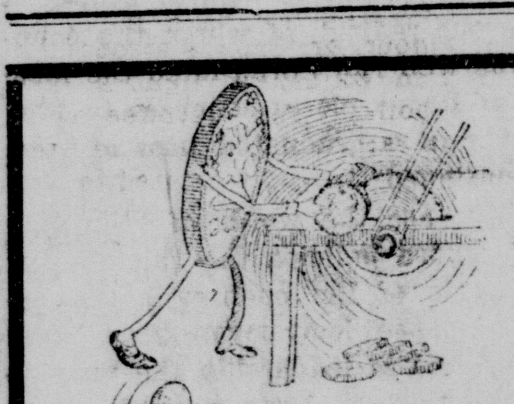

One-half box of pulverized gelatine,
soaked in one cup of cold water several hours (or over night). Add one cup of hot water, one scant cup of sugar, two cups of cream, beaten to a stiff froth and some preserved ginger cut fine. Stir the gelatine, sugar, ginger until it begins to thicken, then add the whipped cream and set away to cool.

English Sausage Pie.

Make a crust, fill with sausage meat,
seasoned with salt and black pepper.
Bake with an upper crust. Eat cold.
Small pies or turnovers for lunches made in this way are a nice change from sandwiches for the school child or a workman who eats a cold lunch.

Stains from Bluing.

These stains may be removed entirely with a little wood alcohol.

ENGINEERS DON'T DRINK

RAILROADS NOW INSIST ON SOBRIETY AMONG THEIR EMPLOYEES.

MANY MEN SEE THE ADVANTAGE OF IT

Santa Fe Official Tells of the Change
That Has Taken Place in the Last Few Years Regarding Habit of Drinking.

Topeka, Kan., May 4.—There is probably not a business where sobriety and temperance is as much demanded as in the operating department of a great railway system. This may appear strange, because the general belief is that railroad men are a happy-go-lucky lot, to whom prohibition is a joke. That may have been the case several years ago, but now the opposite is true. While there may be an occasional case of quiet drinking, yet the great majority of the operating railway employees practice prohibition. Why? Because they know that the men who do not drink are given the preference and their advancement is almost certain.

Many of the men, especially engineers, go even farther than being total abstainers themselves. In several cases they have refused to work with men in the habit of using intoxicants. These men are not what is generally known as "prohibition cranks," but they have studied probi-tion from its various angles and know that sobriety is essential to both men in the cab as well as one.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company is not only strict with regard to the drinking habit, but is doing everything in its power to encourage its employees to keep away from places where intoxicants are sold. Rule 200 of special instructions which every man is required to read says:

"The use of intoxicating liquors has proved a most fruitful source of trouble to railroads as well as to individuals. The company will exercise the most rigid scrutiny in reference to the habits of employees in this respect.
Drinking when on duty or frequenting saloons will not be tolerated, and preference will be given to those who do not drink at all."

"It is noticeable," said Fred C. Fox, general superintendent of the Eastern grand division of the Santa Fe,
"the change that has taken place in the men in regard to drinking in the past few years. I don't know whether it is the result of the general probi-tion wave that is going over the country or not. But I do know that there is less drinking among railroad employees than ever before. Years ago the strict abstainer was looked upon as the man to be marveled at. Today the reverse is true. The strictly sober men are away up yonder in the majority in the railway service."

"The men have been told that men who do not drink at all are given the preference, and they have come to the conclusion that the rule means what it says. The average man, whatever his walk in life is, has an ambition to go ahead. Our men have learned by experience that the rules against drinking mean exactly what they say, and that the non-drinking man will go ahead, where the tippler will not."

Salt Seasoned Timber.

A workman was packing salt about a pile of timber. "Seasoning timber with salt, eh? It sounds like a joke, doesn't it?" he said. "It is often done,
though, especially in ship timber.
Ships built of salt-seasoned timber get a better insurance rate. Some very rich woods are seasoned in boiling oil.
That's an ancient and costly process.
A new device is electrical seasoning.
With strong electric shocks the sap is driven out of the wood and replaced by a solution of borax and resin. The scheme is cheap; not half as good as salt."

CONVICTED BANK WRECKER

Issues Information That May Result in Many Arrests.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 4.—From his cell in Riverside penitentiary, where he is doing fifteen years for bank wrecking, J. F. B. Rinehart, formerly cashier of the Farmers' and Drivers' bank of Waynesburg, Pa., which recently went down for almost $2,000, 000, has given out information which it is thought will result in the arrest of perhaps twelve others, who will be charged with conspiracy with the cashier to wreck the big bank, and it will likely make one of the banking sensations of years.

So strong is the evidence at hand that Special Bank Examiners Charles E. Starek and Henry George have come from Washington to take the matter up with the federal grand jury, which convenes here tomorrow.
Haste has been urged by United States District Attorney John H. Jordan, who says the statute of limitation
will soon be on in most of the cases.

It is now recalled that when Rinehart was convicted that he made an outburst against his supposed friends,
and in the lobby of the United States court room sought to strike one of the most prominent men in Waynesburg, who he accused of having got him into the trouble and with having profited thereby.

WORK THAT TELLS

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right
Here in Sedalia.

Cures that last are cures that tell.
To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Sedalia. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Sedalia sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Mrs. G. A. Bras, 812 E. Sixth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble so severely that I thought I would die. The kidney secretions were irregular, and if I stopped, sharp twinges would dart through the small of my back. I could not sleep well and seemed to have but little strength or energy. I tried many remedies but without good results. Finally I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at Bard's drug store. I took them as directed and received prompt relief, steadily improved and at last every symptom was banished. My husband has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results."

"SNAP JUDGMENT ON HYDE"

His Secretary Says Court Hasn't Heard All About Motor Case.

Paris, May 4.—M. Goffiot, secretary to James Hazen Hyde, of New York, was questioned concerning the sentence of one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100 imposed Saturday on Mr. Hyde on a charge that while in his motor car he ran into a public taxicab last October and injured a passenger. Mr. Hyde's chauffeur at the same time was sentenced to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $30. Mr. Goffiot characterized this sentence, imposing the highest penalty and taken in Mr. Hyde's absence, as a "snap judgment," and declared that it would be appealed. He said further that the passenger in the taxicab was not scratched, and that when the facts were fully before the court he expected the penalty would be reduced to a small fine.

Worldly Wisdom.

As there is a worldly happiness which God perceives to be no more than disguised misery; as there are worldly honors which in his estimation are reproach, so there is a worldly wisdom which in his sight is foolishness. Of this worldly wisdom the characters are given in the Scriptures, and placed in contrast with those of the wisdom which is from above. The one is the wisdom of the crafty, the other that of the upright; the one terminates in selfishness the other in charity; the one is full of strife and bitter enviousness, the other of mercy and of good fruits.—Blair.

MINISTER OF CHICAGO CHURCH
ASKED TO ASSIST IN SE-CURING THEM.

THE OLD FASHIONED ONES THE BEST

No College Graduates, Club Women or Reformers Need Apply—Bachelors and Widowers Candidates for Matrimony.

Chicago, May 4.—Bachelors, widowers and young unmarried men, to the number of more than one hundred, who have felt the call of springtime, "when a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love," Sunday night made frantic appeals for wives through the Rev. D. D. Vaughan at the Halstead Street Institutional church.

The letters of many of the yearning swains, all describing in detail the qualifications of the women they desired as helpmeets, were read to an appreciative congregation by the pastor of the church.

Dr. Vaughan preached his regular Sunday evening sermon on the subject of "The Ideal Wife."

His material he obtained from the letters he read.

While the qualifications for wives-to-be were varied and amusing in many cases, it was evident that most of the men who wrote to the pastor were serious in their requests.

Every man wrote that he did not wish his wife to be a college graduate, nor a club woman or reformer. Neither was it considered essential that she be pretty or talented. What every man wanted was an "old-fashioned girl."

Also every aspirant for matrimonial bliss wrote that he wanted his wife to be a good cook and able to "find her way to a man's heart through his stomach."

Several men were partial to "clinging vines," while others thought it would be a good idea if they could get a "sturdy oak"—a woman who was amply able to keep them well in hand. One of the letters created some amusement. It was from a widower in Spokane, Wash.

"I am a widower 50 years old," he wrote. "That may seem old, but I want to tell you I am as active as a cat. I am fairly well to do and am amply able to support a wife in comfort. She need not be young, but I do insist on her having a good disposition and being a good cook. I have not met my ideal woman for five years. If you can find her, for goodness sake let me know immediately!"

A bachelor of the stately age of 65 appealed for a wife in plain but honest terms.

"I don't expect to get a pretty girl or a rich one," he wrote. "It will not be necessary for her to love me, either. If you know of a girl who would rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave, kindly put me next at your earliest opportunity."

Last week Dr. Vaughan sent out a list of questions to several hundred unmarried men to ascertain the prevailing opinion as to what the ideal wife should be.

He said in his sermon, however, that most of the men evidently had mistaken him for a "matrimonial agent."

The following were the questions that inspired the appeals from the unmarried:

"Must she be pretty?"

"Must she be a good cook and a new housekeeper?"

"Must she be stylish?"

"Must she be vivacious or quiet?"

"Must she be a society or a home girl?"

"Must she be a college girl?"

"Must she be talented?"

"Do you prefer the 'new' woman or the old-fashioned kind?"

"Must she be a club woman or a reformer or interested in politics?"

"Do you want a clinging vine or a sturdy oak?"

Out of the 110 men who answered the letters, only three wanted their wife to be pretty. All of them insisted on her being a good cook and a neat housekeeper.

Only two men wanted a stylish wife. More of them wanted her vivacious than quiet. All of them insisted on her being a "home girl."

The prevailing opinion seemed to be against society women, reformers or those interested in politics.

SPRING FORK ITEMS.

Spring Fork, Mo., May 4.
Johnnie McGinley, of Sedalia, who has been spending a few days at the home of D. Donohue, returned to Sedalia Friday.

Dr. Dyer, of Sedalia, was called to this section on professional business one day the past week.

Mrs. J. W. Coffey spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. McGee.

The charivari of John Brengus, blacksmith at Spring Fork, and wife, was well attended, there being about twenty in number and they were well equipped for noise.

This section was visited Thursday by a rain, hail and wind storm. Considerable damage was done by the wind.

G. W. Rider, wife and daughter, made a business trip to Sedalia Friday.

Miss Ethel Blum, of Mora, spent Sunday with Miss Gussie Rider.

Elmer Garrett, of near Sedalia, spent Sunday afternoon in this section.

Clarence and Ray Dump, Fred Riecke, Miss Edna Wultz and John Stahlut, of Sedalia, spent last Sunday at the home of Max Riecke.

Mrs. J. O. DeHaven, who has been on the sick list the past week, is some better at this writing.

Leslie Franklin, of near Sedalia, was in this section last Sunday.

The dance at Louie Garkins last Saturday night was well attended, and all reported a good time.

J. O. DeHaven's sister, of near Hughesville, is here spending a few days.

Grease on Carpets.

An excellent paste for getting grease from carpets is made by mixing fuller's earth with a little ammonia. This mixture should be quite thick and should be applied with a stiff brush. Let it remain over night, then brush off with a stiff brush. Sometimes it is necessary to put on a second supply. If the colors of the carpet are delicate and there is danger of discoloring, the ammonia may be omitted. Should the tone of the carpet seem to be dull after the grease is out, the color may be freshened by sweeping with moist salt.

Lily Cake.

One-third cup butter, one cup sugar, one-half cup milk, 1½ cups flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, three egg whites, one-half teaspoon extract of lemon, two-thirds teaspoon vanilla. Cream and butter, add gradually the sugar and the vanilla. Beat the egg whites to a stiff froth and add. Sift the flour and baking powder together thoroughly and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Add lemon extract. Bake in moderate oven.

Spiced Meat.

First mix dry 2½ pounds of salt, one-half pound black pepper, one-half ounce mace, one-half ounce cayenne pepper, 1½ ounces nutmeg. Then prepare your meat for roasting in the usual way, omitting pepper and salt. Sprinkle plentifully with the mixture and put in oven to roast. This is delicious. Put remainder of the mixture in a jar, cover tightly and keep for future use.

German Puffs.

Sift eight tablespoonfuls of flour into a pan, stir in one quart of milk very slowly; when quite smooth add the yolks of eight well-beaten eggs, a little salt, then the eight stiffly beaten whites. Pour into buttered cups and bake 20 minutes. Serve hot with wine sauce.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases, Says It's a Germ.

The old idea that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp is exploded. Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up little scales of cuticle, and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and permits a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. TELLS OF SIBERIAN HARDTACK.

Many Uses of a Bread Much Favored in Cold Countries.

Of all the hardtack breads of the universe I have found by actual experience the small ringed bread of Siberia the most substantial. When the Russian engineering parties were constructing the Siberian railroad this white-ringed bread (with the coarse rye bread) was their main staff of life.

It is made without salt or yeast and is first steamed, then lightly baked to expel the moisture. Some curious uses were made of these breads by the engineers. When soaked in hot pure tallow for a few moments till they sank they were used in soups or soaked in and eaten with tea during the severe winter months. This tallow bread was considered the most heat-producing article in the dietary. It should be utilized by our Arctic explorers.

Another curious use to which it is put is as an extempore candle, or coffee pot boiler. A nail is used to make about eight holes in the tallow ring bread; wax vestas are placed in these and ignited. It will burn slowly for about an hour, emitting a strong heat sufficient to warm and light a small tent and boil the tea or coffee water. There is a rather strong odor of toasting bread, but that is tolerated in preference to smoke. While sojourning with the engineers in Siberia I have also seen them using the larger sizes of ringed bread as makeshift quotas for Sunday afternoon sport in their tents, and the bread would stand the knocking about pretty well, and would eventually appear in the soup at the evening meal.

Small Siberian storekeepers also use the ringed bread as an abacus, or primitive counting apparatus for calculating small sums in rubles and kopeks, and simple figuring. Three strings are suspended above the counter; ten breads are strung on each; the top line represents the rubles (their money transactions rarely going above ten) and the two lower strings stand for the kopeks. Of course the strings of bread can be increased to mount into the thousands and up if desired.—L. Lodian, in Scientific American.

A regular scream. You cry because you laugh when you read Miss Minerva and Mr. Green Hill incidentally. A delightful little love story principally—wholesome, perennial humor. Also the latest book on the market at West's Book Shop. Mr. Opp, by Alice Hegan Rice.

First Fare on the Comet.

Dr. John Inglis remembers a conversation with an old gentleman who claimed to have been the first to pay passage money on board the first passenger steamer in Europe—the historic Comet. The voyage undertaken was from the Broomfield to Dalmuir—fourpence now by tramway car—and the fare was four shillings. It was taken by Henry Bell himself, the Comet was stopped and waited for half an hour till Bell and his passenger adjourned to an inn, where the first fare wet the toast of prosperity to the pioneer passenger steamer.—Glasgow Herald.

Spanish Executioner's Remorse.

A curious story comes from Seville. On Sunday night the local executioner died, his death being due to remorse. For several years he had not carried out any executions, but recently he was summoned to Cordova to inflict the final penalty on some criminals. The impression made upon him was so painful that he was unable to face the ordeal when summoned to execute the last criminal condemned in Seville, and the sentence will have to be carried out by the Madrid executioner.

"SOCIETY" IN THE TENEMENTS.

Rules and Regulations for Conduct That Are Binding.

Keeping company, as interpreted by the best sages, simulates an engagement without involving an engagement. In society, one takes short views of life; while Nellie gave Hefty her lips to kiss and her waist to clasp, she has kept her heart whole. They were chums, those two. Chums no more, each may seek a new comrade; only the smash should have been come at more decorously. "He ain't no gentleman!" cries Nellie, as she reads to bits Mr. McCafferty's literary remains—those clumsy, brief notes written on ruled paper with an embossed design in the upper left-hand corner, and beginning, as is proper, "Friend Nellie." She reiterates the verdict as she pitches his gifts down the air-shaft—"soo-neers" from the benches, medals reminiscent of holidays, and sundry buttons and badges inscribed, "Skidoo," or "I'm Afraid to Go Home in the Dark," or "23 for you." This frenzy of vandalism redoubles her fury and affords us our opportunity to awaken within her a resolve to have done with the whole race of Hefty McCaffertys, and to choose her next steady in a more distinguished social milieu. The thing is perfectly possible. It happens. Like many another girl, she will rise in the world.—Rollin Lynde Hartt, in Atlantic.

JUDGES NOT WORRIED

McPHERSON AND PHILIPS RATHER LAUGH AT MURPHY RESOLUTION.

McPHERSON ASKS "WHO IS MURPHY?"

Declares Acts in the Rate Cases Were Done in Full Light of Day and Are Matters of Record—Philips Says He Won't Run.

St. Louis, May 4.—"Who is Murphy?"

This, in effect, is what Judge Smith McPherson, of Red Oak, Ia., wants to know relative to the resolution introduced yesterday in the house of representatives at Washington by Congressman Murphy, of Missouri, asking a congressional investigation of Federal Judges McPherson and Phillips.

Nearing St. Louis on a train preparatory to addressing the Traffic club at Hotel Jefferson, Judge McPherson, who presides over the United States district court for the Southern district of Iowa, was first informed of the resolution. He had been in the country near Shennandoah, Ia., yesterday and was out of touch with the news of the day. Tired with his day's outing and in ignorance of the full text of the resolution, he had boarded Wabash train No. 14, bound for St. Louis, and a message from the Republic was handed him at Maryville, Mo.

The message asking for a statement relative to the charges made in the resolution asking for an investigation of both Judge McPherson and Judge Phillips.

It was presupposed that Judge McPherson knew the text of the resolution. At St. Louis, Mo., Judge McPherson filed this message for the Republic:

"Your telegram was received on train, en route to St. Louis, where I am to deliver an address before the Traffic club of business men by invitation.

"Your message was the first I had known of any resolution in congress today concerning Judge Phillips and myself. Not only was your message the first I had heard of such a resolution, but it is the first time I ever have heard of any man by the name of Murphy from the state of Missouri.

"Whatever his resolution may be, and whoever Mr. Murphy may be, they both will be without harm to either Judge Phillips or myself.

"What I have done in the Missouri rate cases was done in the broad daylight of the court room, with my conclusions at the end of the hearing reduced to writing now on file with the clerk of the United States circuit court at Kansas City, and which were widely distributed to the press by the Associated Press March 8.

"Your message does not inform me of the nature of the resolution, therefore I can not go into detail. Whatever they may be, my sleep tonight will not be disturbed.

"Of course, you know that anything a congressman does can not be called to account, if done in open session, and this, regardless of the slanders he may utter and the person slandered, is absolutely without recourse."

Congress Snubs Resolutions.

Washington, May 4.—High tide at Washington in Missouri rate affairs was reached today.

Representative A. Pat Murphy, of the Sixteenth Missouri district, introduced his resolution in the house demanding an investigation of Judge J. F. Phillips and Judge Smith McPherson, of the federal district court.

The Warner resolution, inspired by Governor Hadley, which directed an investigation into the reasonableness of the rates charged by the Missouri railroads, was put to sleep in the senate.

Murphy's sizzling resolution, revamping the circumstances of the Tampico fishing trip, assailing Judge Phillips as a tyrant in the administration of his court and alleging, in effect, undue sympathy for the railroads on the part of the two judges in question, was referred to house committee on rules.

And this, in all human probability, will be the end of the resolution's official career.

Philips Courts an Inquiry.

Kansas City, Mo., May 4.—"I will demand an immediate investigation," said Judge John F. Phillips here yesterday, when shown the Washington dispatch in regard to Representative Murphy's resolution. "I do not intend to allow these charges to hang fire indefinitely if I can help it."

Although he declined to be interviewed, Judge Phillips intimated that he would immediately telegraph Speaker Cannon and request that a congressional committee be appointed to investigate thoroughly the matters suggested by the Murphy resolution. That portion of the resolution which insinuated that Judge Phillips had been derelict in attending to his official duties seemed to disturb him most, as, he said, his part in the disposition of the Missouri rate cases had been largely perfunctory.

His granting of a supplementary restraining order against the railroads last Friday, he said, was the most important act of his in connection with the cases and he did that as an accommodation to Judge McPherson, who will come here next Wednesday to preside at the hearing on that order.

Judge Phillips said he had called in Judge McPherson to take charge of the Missouri rate cases in their very inception and that during the last three years he had devoted himself to the work of the United States court of appeals, where the number of decisions he had rendered disproved the charges of the Murphy resolution.

Judge Phillips has been on the federal bench for twenty-one years and he said he courted the fullest investigation of his judicial career.

He intimated that the primary motive behind the charges against him was to force his resignation. In this connection he said:

"I have never run away from a fight. I did not in the civil war and I shall not now."

Judge Phillips served in the Union army and has a distinguished record.

Judge Phillips Has Reconsidered.

Kansas City, May 4.—Judge John F. Phillips today decided not to urge Speaker Cannon to push the investigation of the charges made against him by Congressman Murphy.

He has concluded that such a request from him would be a bad precedent as well as somewhat irregular, as congress would have no jurisdiction in the premises unless impeachment proceedings were started. The jurist has also reconsidered his determination to make a formal statement for publication today.

Willing to Be Investigated.

St. Louis, May 4.—Judge Smith McPherson issued a statement here today reviewing his work in the Missouri rate cases and defending the course taken by him in those trials. He asserted his willingness to undergo a congressional investigation, "if any member of congress, aside from Mr. Murphy, thinks there should be such an investigation." He added that the Missouri congressman had done Judge Phillips "a great wrong," as the latter had "practically nothing whatever to do with the Missouri rate cases."

Says Resolution is Outrageous.

Kansas City, May 4.—Attorney Frank Hagerman, of this city, leading counsel for the railways in Missouri in the rate litigation, today sent a telegram to Attorney General Wickham at Washington saying that Representative Murphy's resolution is an outrageous issue of misrepresentation.

MUST ANSWER TRIPLE CHARGE

Negro Arrested Today Seems in Serious Difficulty.

Lee Eastwood, a negro, about 35 years old, was arrested today by Deputy Constable Brown on a triple charge, namely, forgery, carrying concealed weapons and beating a board bill.

Eastwood was arraigned before Judge J. B. Rickman to answer to the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and was sentenced to sixty days' confinement in the county jail. The charge of forgery will probably be tried late this afternoon.

Late Monday Eastwood entered Quinn Bros.' shoe store and purchased a pair of shoes. He tendered in payment a check for $10, bearing the forged signature of Dr. J. M. Harris.

Instead of spelling "ten" correctly, the negro had spelled the word "twen," which caused suspicion when tendered in payment for the shoes. The shoe clerk went to the telephone to call Dr. Harris to ascertain if the check was good and while he was doing so the negro ran from the store.

Deputy Brown was furnished with a good description of the negro and today located him near the M. K. & T. station.

HOUSES UNDER THE GROUND.

Dwellers in the Desert Make Practical Use of Walls Erected by the Ancient Romans.

Concerning the mysterious underground dwellings in the desert back of Tripoli Hannus Vischer writes in the Geographical Journal: "On the northern edge of the mountains the little land of Gharlan, with its villages and gardens, stands like an island among the general destruction. To this day the old Roman terraces have withstood the keen wind from the sea and the winter rains and give one an idea of the country's former prosperity. The village of Gharlan lies among ancient olive groves and large fruit gardens, built on the old terraces. Ruined castles look down from every little hill, old Roman or earlier towers. The present inhabitants live in underground houses, hewn out of the solid rocks, the ancient dwellings probably of some prehistoric race.

"A curious maze of earth mounds, which rose on either side of the road, showed the position of the village. From one of these mounds, the rubbish taken out of the ground when the house was built, I looked down into a square courtyard about thirty feet below the ground, with walls hewn perpendicularly out of the red rock. Around the walls several doors and narrow slit windows showed the different rooms. The master of the house then led us to a door which was built above the ground, like the entrance to some cellar, and down a narrow passage or tunnel to the courtyard below. The first apartment we came to held donkeys and some goats and was used as a stable.

"The living rooms were all white washed and, like the courtyard, exceedingly clean. It looked most picturesque—the little house with the whitewashed arches leading into the rooms, the red sides of the rock covered, partly by a fresh green creeper, and over it all the square of dark-blue sky. The inhabitants praise their houses, for they are cool in summer and warm in winter, when the cold northeast wind blows, but they knew nothing of the original builders."

Aged Nebraskan Gives Woman $935 and Barber $400.

Chicago, May 4.—When Theodore Langstone, 76 years old, gets back to Tecumseh, Neb., he will have "some story" to tell the boys. While he is poorer in worldly goods, he has gained knowledge of woman's wiles and of the lures of a great city.

He has appealed to the chief of detectives, and asked help in finding Miss Mary E. Bodey, described as a dashing brunette, with offices in the Schiller building, where she carried on a real estate and brokerage business.

Langstone said he had given her $935 and that she had promised to marry him, but disappeared. He wants his money back.

Detectives accompanied him to the Schiller building office, where they found, tacked on the door, a sign that compressed a deal of meaning into four letters, "Gone."

He also told the police that when he arrived in Chicago he went to a barber shop to get shaved. "And when I pulled my wallet out the barber feller he says, 'Say, old man, that's too much money for you to carry around in a wicked city like this. Better let me keep it for you.' So I gave him $400 to keep till I came for it."

"Where is the barber shop?" interrupted the detectives.

"I don't know. I could not find it again."

The agriculturist displayed $1,000 in cash which the woman and the barber overlooked.

SUED BY FORMER SLAVE

Atchison County Negro Woman Wants
Half of Old Master's Estate.

Atchison, Kas., May 4.—B. F. Hudson, attorney for Mrs. Eliza Williams, a negro, has filed suit here against Melissa Campbell, Lucy A. Cain, Christina Herford and Edwynne B.
Giddings, the heirs of Col. Edwin R.
Brown, who died twenty-three years ago. The complaint referred to Col.
Brown as the "plaintiff's lawful husband."

The suit is for half of the large estate left by Col. Brown. The real estate consists of 2,040 acres of land.
Col. Brown lived in Mississippi before and during the civil war. Mrs. Williams, the plaintiff, was 11 years old and a slave when he bought her in Tennessee. After the war she remained with the Brown family. In the early '70s Col. Brown and his family and several former slaves, among them Mrs. Williams, came to Atchison county. Here Col. Brown gave the former slaves the same care he had given them in the south, and in his will he made provision for them. After his death his daughter, Miss Mary Brown, gave them the same attention he had given them.

'T WAS ONLY A CAT

Janitor Rymer Thought Some One
Had Left a Baby.

Mike Rymer, the well known janitor at the court house, had an aggravated case of disgust Monday, in consequence of which he has little to say to his friends today.

Mike was busily engaged at his work at the court house, when he was hurriedly summoned to answer the telephone in the sheriff's office.

"Come home quick, Mike; a man has taken something up in the hay loft and left it there, and I'm afraid it is a baby," Mrs. Rymer shouted to her husband over the telephone.

Speechless and shivering, the husband janitor rushed from the building and jumping into his buggy drove rapidly to his residence in North Sedalia.

Without inquiring further from Mrs.
Rymer he ran pell mell into the stable and up the ladder into the loft.

There he espied a sack, containing something giving evidence of being a human being. Then his courage began to fail him.

Cautiously and stealthily he opened the sack and to his amazement found a sickly looking "tom cat." He said nothing, and today he looks sicker than the cat.

NO USE FOR HAMILTON

Senator Johnson, of North Dakota, Against Memorial in Washington.

Washington, May 4.—War is to be made by Senator Johnson, of North Dakota, on the effort to erect a statue on the public square in this city to Alexander Hamilton. He has introduced a resolution repealing the resolution providing for such a memorial.

"I want that man forgotten as soon as possible," said Senator Johnson in conversation. "I do not want an effigy of Hamilton put up here as a model for any young man. If some people want such a statue let them buy the ground somewhere on which to place
it. They propose to put it near the White House on a public square and I will make war on it. If it is put there in less than ten years that statue will be dynamited, for the American people will not tolerate it."

"Alexander Hamilton was one of the most contemptible rakes we have ever known in this country. His military service was not sufficient to warrant the erection of a memorial to him and his legislative service was only in representing a New York city district in the legislature of his state, which is not sufficient for such distinction. He advocated the election of the president and the senate by wealthy people of the country and upon failing to have his idea adopted left the constitutional convention and went home."

"As secretary of the treasury he favored allowing the wealthy people of the country to control the government. I received a letter from the president of the Alexander Hamilton association today asking for a contribution to the $100,000 fund for the statue, and this resolution was my answer to it."

A VOTE ON CIGARETTES SOON
The Senate Will Consider the Bill by Cross Tomorrow.

Jefferson City, May 4.—The bill to make it a misdemeanor to sell cigarettes in Missouri will be a special order for consideration in the senate Wednesday. It is a house bill by Cross and while it makes it an offense punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $200 to sell, give away or offer to sell any cigarettes or cigarette papers, it does not attempt to prevent anyone from making a cigarette, provided he has the "makings." It does not interfere with him sending away for the "makings."

This bill applies to persons of any age and makes no distinction between children and adults. Thousands of names are signed to petitions that have been filed in the senate.

ish Minister.

Washington, May 4.—When Amba-
sador Leishman is succeeded at Constantinople by Oscar S. Straus, the new minister to Turkey, he will go to Rome in place of Lloyd S. Griscom.

Mr. Straus telegraphed from New York his acceptance of the mission to Turkey to Secretary Knox. It is not known at the state department when he will take up his diplomatic duties.

W. W. Rockhill, a native of Pennsylvania, is to be ambassador to Russia.
He will remain in Pekin for a time,
the president not yet having determined on his successor. The president is casting about carefully for an appointee to the China post, which in view of the interest taken by the United States in the "open door" in the settlement of the complications growing out of the railroad situation in Manchuria and other reasons, is regarded as a very important one. Incidentally, these matters will come up for consideration in St. Petersburg, to which place Mr. Rockhill is to be appointed.

SOUTH'S STARS AND BARS

GENERAL CABELL TELLS HOW THE DESIGN OF FLAG ORIGINATED.

SUCCEEDED A BADGE OF RED FLANNEL

It Was Ordered as a Battle Standard By Generals Johnston and Beauregard—Made From Women's Silk Skirts.

Ardmore, Ok., May 4.—The preparations now being made throughout the south for the annual reunion of Confederate Veterans at Memphis during June makes of unusual interest at the present time a statement made a number of years ago by Gen. W. L. Cabell, of Dallas, Texas, in regard to how and where the "stars and bars" of the Confederacy were designed. Gen. Cabell is commander of the trans-Mississippi department of the United Confederate Veterans. He declares the following to be a true history of the flag:

"When the Confederate army, commanded by Gen. Beauregard, and the Federal army confronted each other at Manassas, it was seen that the Confederate flag and the Stars and Stripes looked at a distance so much alike that it was hard to distinguish one from another. Gen. Beauregard, after the battle of the 18th of July, at Blackburn Ford, ordered that a small red badge should be worn on the left shoulder by our troops, and as I was chief quartermaster, ordered me to purchase a large quantity of red flannel and to distribute it to each regiment.

During the battle of Bull Run it was plain to be seen that a large number of Federal soldiers wore a similar red badge. Gen. Johnston and Gen. Beauregard met at Fairfax court house, in the latter part of August or early September, and determined to have a battleflag for every regiment or detached command.

"Gen. Johnston's flag was in the shape of an ellipse—a red flag with blue St. Andrew's cross and stars on the cross (white) to represent the different southern states. (No white border of any kind was attached to the cross.) Gen. Beauregard's was a rectangle red, with blue St. Andrew's cross and white stars, similar to Gen. Johnston's.

"After we had discussed fully the two styles, taking into consideration the cost of material and the care of making the same, it was decided the elliptical flag would be harder to make; that it would take more cloth and it could not be seen so plainly at a distance; that the rectangular flag, drawn by and suggested by Gen. Beauregard, should be adopted. Gen. Johnston yielded at once.

Women Contributed Silk Skirts.

"No one else was present but we three. No one knew about this flag but we three until an order was issued adopting the Beauregard flag, as it was called, and directing me, as chief quartermaster, to have the flag made as soon as it could be done. I immediately issued an address to the good ladies of the south to give me their red and blue silk dresses and to send them to Capt. Colin McRae Selph, quartermaster at Richmond, Va. (Capt. Selph is now living in New Orleans), where he was assisted by two elegant young ladies, the Misses Carey, from Baltimore, and Mrs. Henningsen, of Savannah, and Mrs. Hopkins, of Alabama.

"The Misses Carey made battleflags for Gen. Beauregard and Gen. Van Dorn and, I think, for Gen. J. E. Johnston. They made Gen. Beauregard's out of their own silk dresses. This flag is now in Memorial Hall, New Orleans, La., with a statement of that fact from Gen. Beauregard. Gen. Van Dorn's flag was made of heavier material, but very pretty.

"The statement going around that this flag was first designed by federal prisoners is false.

"Gen. Beauregard's battleflag is in Memorial hall at New Orleans, La. The Washington artillery battleflag can be seen at the Washington Artillery hall."

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

ILLINOIS NOT INTERESTED IN MISSOURI'S RATE FIGHT, SAYS HARAHAN.

COACH CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources For the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

J. F. Harahan, president of the Illinois Central railroad, J. G. Rawn, first vice president, and F. B. Harman, general manager of the road, left St. Louis on a tour of inspection. The trip will end at New Orleans.

Mr. Harahan said that the Illinois Central was not interested in the rate fight in Missouri.

"Prosperity will not return to this country until the state legislatures cease fighting the railroads," said Mr. Harahan. "The national government and the legislatures of the state in attacking the railroads are hurting every business interest in the country."

"There will be few improvements or extensions of railroads until the legislatures cease their fights on them."

C. W. Goodwin Not Improving.

Mrs. C. W. Goodwin returned this afternoon from St. Louis, where she has been at the bedside of Mr. Goodwin, a Missouri Pacific engineer, who on January 6, last, was seriously injured in the wreck near Independence, and who is now confined to the company hospital in the Mound City. Mr. Goodwin is not improving satisfactorily, and it is thought that it will be three months or more before he is able to be at work and the physician in charge stated that he might never recover entirely.

Death of Extra Gang Laborer.

James Ousley, a negro extra gang laborer for the M. K. & T. in Oklahoma who has been ill with consumption at the company hospital for two weeks died at the institution in this city Sunday. He was 23 years old. The remains were interred in the hospital grounds at Crown Hill cemetery this afternoon.

C. E. Whitney, general chairman of the grievance committee of the O. R. C. on the M. K. & T., made a business visit at Franklin Junction today. There is a vacancy for one brakeman in place of W. K. Anderson, with Conductor Richard, on trains Nos. 35 and 96 of the Missouri Pacific. Applications for the run must be filed not later than May 11.

A. A. Krause, general claim attorney for the Missouri Pacific, accompanied by A. R. Thickett, claim agent, and R. M. Minford, of the claim department, came in from St. Louis this morning to settle hospital claims.

M. K. & T. train No. 2 was run in two sections this morning, the first section being engine No. 242, running "light," in charge of Conductor Moore and Engineer Lydick, en route to Franklin Junction to return with the second section of the flyer tomorrow morning.

Major Youssef was the man who, after the murder of Deputy Arslan, made his way to the house of parliament and in a speech denounced the members for acting against the laws of the koran. Yechar was the man who planned the details of the revolt of April 13, and who was commander in chief and practically dictator of Constantinople for two days following. The other eleven men worked under Yechar.

Mourad, editor of the newspaper Nazim, is being tried by court martial.

A member of the court martial read the sultan's firman confirming the sentences at each place of execution, and priests prayed with the condemned men for two hours before their execution.

The bodies were left hanging until 2 o'clock in the afternoon and were seen by at least 100,000 persons.

Documentary evidence has been discovered among the records of the telegraph office here of the knowledge of the Constantinople authorities that massacres had been planned for the Adana district and that they were to coincide with the political events here.

Other papers have been found also indicating that the conspirators at the palace acted in the sultan's name in preparing the military mutiny of April 13. Lists of houses, with the kind of loot to be found therein, were discovered on some of the prisoners now in custody.

The arrangements included a general massacre of foreigners in Constantinople, including the diplomatic representatives on April 24.

CRAZY, BUT CLEVER FORGER

Former Wealthy Liquor Dealer Sent to Illinois Asylum.

Chicago, May 4.—Edward H. Rentsch, a former wealthy liquor dealer and sporting man of Indianapolis, was sentenced today to the asylum for the criminal insane at Chester, Ill., on a charge of forgery.

Rentsch's reason deserted him some time ago, without, however, depriving him of sufficient cunning to perpetrate several successful forgeries, it is said, in St. Louis, Louisville and Kansas City. He was placed in an asylum at Indianapolis, but escaped last January.

Assuming the name of John Klein, he is alleged to have forged the name of Edward H. Bertrand, of Rockford, Ill., to a mortgage note, on which he secured $1,000 from Benjamin F. O'Dell, a real estate dealer. It was on this charge that he was sentenced to the asylum.

216 OHIO STREET

ARMED WITH A STILETTO

A MANIAC ATTACKED WOMEN
PEDESTRIANS IN HEART OF NEW YORK.

HE WAS PURSUED BY AN ANGRY MOB

Stabbed Two and Floored Another
Before a Policeman Got Him—Was Saved From Crowd—
Work of the Police.

New York, May 4.—On three upper streets last night filled with promenaders a wild-eyed foreigner flourishing a stiletto ran amuck and caused the injury of three persons. Two of them were stabbed and one was knocked down by the assailant. It was due to the protection of three policemen that the crazed man was not lynched when he was captured after a run of a mile. That his name was Anthony Beloni and that he lived somewhere on West Thirty-third street was all that could be learned from his gibbering.

The motive that controlled his wandering mind in this wild chase and attack of strangers is a mystery. He first appeared running through West Seventy-seventh street from Central Park west. At Columbus avenue he met a man and woman and slashed the woman on the arm. A mob was soon in pursuit, while the woman was carried into a drug store.

At Amsterdam avenue the apparently insane man met another couple, and with a shriek grabbed the woman, who was young and pretty, by the arm, bent her backward and was about to draw the stiletto across her throat when her companion grabbed the uplifted arm and shoved the man away. He recovered and aimed a blow at the woman, which struck her under the right eye and felled her to the ground. He then resumed his flight, shrieking wildly and brandishing the weapon.

In Seventy-eighth street he found his way blocked by several of the pursuing crowd, and darted back toward Amsterdam avenue with the mob behind him. "Get him. Kill him! String him up!"

The fugitive ran with the same amazing speed as before, though the pace was beginning to tell. Little flecks of froth stood on his lips and his eyes appeared starting from his head. He still jabbered in a foreign tongue.

On Amsterdam avenue, between Seventy-seventh and Seventy-eighth streets, the wild man met Mrs. Gertrude Holman on her way to a delicatessen store and struck at her with his stiletto. It sunk into the fleshy part of her right arm above the elbow, and with a scream she sank to the street.

On went the runaway, turning east again in Seventy-seventh street, where he met a policeman, whom he started to attack. But the stiletto was knocked from his hand with the policeman's club, which next floored the man. The crowd that came up, armed with clubs, spades and brooms, clamored for the man's life, but other policemen quickly appeared and hurried the man to a police station and dispersed the mob.

ROSENFELD HOUNDED HIM

Convict Real Estate Dealer Gives Further Testimony in Noted Case.

Chicago, Ill., May 4.—Peter Van Vlissingen, the real estate man who is serving a sentence for forgeries amounting to $1,600,000, completed the story of his twenty years of crime before Referee in Bankruptcy Wean here yesterday.

Van Vlissingen was questioned again as to his relations with Bernhard Rosenberg and Maurice Rosenfeld, the Chicago financiers who, he declared, forced him to carry on more forgeries in order to pay back what he had fled from them, after he had confessed his practices to them in 1904. He named several men whom he had told Rosenberg and Rosenfeld that he was victimizing.

"Rosenfeld particularly was hounding me to death for money," said Van Vlissingen. "I was getting it faster than was safe for any of us."
"Did you tell Rosenberg and Rosenfeld how you made the forgeries and about the electric light system that you used?"
"Yes."

"How much forged paper did you redeem between the years 1901 and 1908?"

"About $1,000,000 in bogus paper." "When you paid Rosenberg and Rosenberg money did they return you a specified paper?"
"Sometimes."

Van Vlissingen said that Rosenfeld and Rosenberg had returned to him $10,000 worth of forged paper during the last four years.

IN NEW YORK CITY
LAST SUNDAY.

HE ATTACKED WOMEN OF THE WORLD

Those Who Are Married, but Not Wives, Have Children, but Are Not Mothers, Were Grilled
by the Pastor.

New York, May 4.—Dr. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, in his sermon Sunday, attacked women of the world who did not live up to the religion of motherhood and are accountable for many of the sins of society.

"One of the most ghastly facts of present day English speaking countries," he said, "is the necessity for the existence of a society for the prevention of cruelty to children, which society is often called upon to protect children from unnatural mothers."

He then referred to society as a huge scale, at one end of which were balanced the women deprived of all womanhood and dehumanized. At the other end were the frivolous women of the world.

"The frivolity of these women," he continued, "makes us almost ashamed of the sex of our mothers. These women are married, but they are not wives; they have children, but they are not mothers; they live in expensive homes, with costly surroundings, but they do not respect the sacredness of home.

"The newspapers waste space upon them. Sarcasm does not affect them. They are not new to the world, but in these days they are most conspicuous. The church can not reach them, as they do not come within the province of the church. It can only keep up its standards of right."

Dr. Aked's sermon was on "The Great Silent Years," the text subject dealing with the boyhood and early manhood of Christ.

"It is the influence of honest toil which has made this country what it is," continued Dr. Aked. "There is no more noble trait of the American people than their love of honest toil, their capacity for and honest pride in work. You Americans do not believe that work is degrading. Guard well your belief in the virtue and dignity of toil."

Dr. Aked then attacked those of the noble class of foreign countries, who, he said, were exalted to insolent privilege and pride, and who, on account of their so-called blue blood, looked down upon the ordinary man as far beneath them.

HAS SECURED DIVORCE

Cabanne of St. Louis Freed From Matrimonial Bonds Yesterday.

St. Louis, May 4.—James Shepard Cabanne obtained a divorce from his wife yesterday and obtained full custody of James Shepard Cabanne III, who has been brought back from San Francisco, whence the boy had been taken by Broughton Brandenburg, the magazine writer. Brandenburg had taken the Cabanne boy from the lad's grandmother's home.

Cabanne, on the witness stand, told a remarkable story of the tangled relations between Brandenburg and Mrs. Cabanne.

"I was sitting in my home several months ago," he testified, "and was in the room with Broughton Brandenburg, who was a guest in my home. I glanced through a newspaper and read an item in which it was said that Mrs. Brandenburg had sued her husband for divorce and that she named Mrs. Cabanne, my wife, in the bill."

"I turned to Brandenburg and asked him if there was any basis for the charge made by Mrs. Brandenburg, and he said:
"The way it is told there it looks as if there might be enough in it to make it dangerous."

"I could not understand him at the time, but I made an appointment to meet him the next day for a conference on the subject, and when I went to the appointed place the next day he was not there, and I have not seen him since that time until I saw him in the San Francisco jail where he was taken after he was arrested with my boy in his custody."

Mrs. Cabanne was not present in court and there was no defense to the suit.

TO BUILD SISTERS' HOME

Sacred Heart Parish Planning for a New Building.

Plans are being formulated by the trustees of Sacred Heart church for the erection of a modern home for the sisters of the Congregation of the Most Precious Blood on the vacant lot, facing Monticau avenue, and just south of the church building.

Although the matter is being done without much publicity, it is known definitely that active work will be begun in the near future to perfect the plans of the trustees' board.

The home will be built of frame material and when completed the present residence of the sisters, just in the rear of the church, will be dismantled.

It is also the intention of the board to make an addition to the church building, although this work will not be taken up for some time.

The new addition to the church will be erected on the lot now occupied by the Sisters dwelling.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Keep Baby Healthy; Free

No child can be well and strong unless its bowels move regularly every day at the same hour. Such regularity promotes good health. One passage is absolutely necessary, while two are not too many.

There is one remedy that is especially adapted to the needs of children, and which thousands of American mothers are using today, and that is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. Its gentle action, so free from gripping, its tonic effects, and its perfect purity, vouches for to the United States Government, makes it an ideal children's laxative.

Mrs. M. F. Cash, of Webb, Okla., is an old-time friend of this wonderful child's remedy and she says she could scarcely keep house without it. She became acquainted with it through Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free trial bottle, which she found so effective on her baby that she now always keeps it in the house. Mrs. K. L. Stout, of Louisville, Ky., also first used it in a free sample, then bought it of her druggist at the regular price, which is only 50 cents or $1 a bottle. It gave her little girl a splendid appetite and a vigorous stomach. Where Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin once finds its way into the home it makes a life-long friend. They soon discard salts, pills and powders.

Those who have never yet used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should begin to do so, for they are missing a valuable household friend. In order to acquaint you with its merits at no expense to yourself the doctor will send you a free test bottle on receipt of name and address. It has been justly called the nation's safeguard to health in the cure of constipation, dyspepsia, heartburn, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and similar digestive ailments.

There is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

HEARING MRS. YERKES CASE

Widow of Traction Magnate Wants Her Husband's Mansion.

New York, May 4.—Mrs. Yerkes has lost her case in Chicago, and in a second effort to recover the mansion brought it up in New York, and Judge Cohan is hearing it today.

Mrs. Yerkes claim to the mansion is based on a bill of sale which she got from her husband's safe just before he died. She declares that she conveyed the property to him years before on condition that certain provisions be made in his will. The provisions, she says, were not made, and she seized the bill of sale to prove her claim. Judge Ward said that her claim ceased in 1903.

WALL PAPER AT McLELLAN'S.

TO SERVE CANNED VEGETABLES.

Two New Ways Warranted to Give Excellent Results.

Poached Eggs with Tomato Sauce.—Open a can of tomatoes and if the pieces are very large cut them lightly with a spoon. Simmer with a tablespoon each of chopped onion and parsley, salt, pepper and just a tiny bit of sugar. When thick as cream sauce, pour the tomato over squares of toast and set in the oven. Drop an egg from a cup into a pan of salted water that is boiling very fast. Stir the water round the edge of the pan with a small shallow spoon, and the egg will poach in a neat white ball. Lay one of these eggs on each square of the toast in tomato sauce, and sprinkle lightly with chopped parsley. You can vary this dish by laying on the tomato sauce and toast, a piece of crisp ham or bacon and then an egg fried brown in butter or bacon fat.

String Bean Salad.—Open a can of string beans and expose them to the air in a bowl set in a cool place for an hour or more. Wash several times in ice water. Arrange neatly on lettuce leaves, pour French dressing over all, and finish with hard-boiled eggs chopped very fine or rubbed through a vegetable press.

The Home.

The cushioned back of a Morris chair has been found valuable in the sickroom to place back of the invalid in bed.

The handles of knives should never be immersed in water, or, after a time, they would become discolored and loose.

A relish made of one can of pimientos, mixed with finely chopped celery, is well liked. It is covered with French dressing and served on lettuce leaves.

Save one or two turkey wings. They are the best brushes in the world to use around a stove and they are splendid for sweeping closet shelves. Weight the wing tip with an iron until it dries.

When books become badly soiled on the edges, if not gilt edged, close the book tightly, then erase the marks with an ink eraser. This will cut off all rough edges, all soiled marks and leave the book very clean.

To remove an ink stain from a colored waist put the stained portion in sweet milk and let it stand until the milk sours. Hang the waist up and let the milk dry, brush it off and wash in the usual manner. This will remove ink when buttermilk has failed. In selecting a pure linen tablecloth, if you are no judge of linen moisture with the goods with the tongue and if a damp spot instantly appears on the opposite side you may rest assured the linen is good. If not the moisture would be long in penetrating the weave.

Whole-Wheat Bread.

Mix together one cup of flour and three cups of whole-wheat flour. Make a hole in the middle of these flours and add a mixture made by stirring together one cup of scalding water, one cup of warm milk, a tablespoonful each of shortening and flour, and when this is lukewarm a gill of warm water in which a yeast cake has been dissolved. If the dough is too thin after this mixture has been worked into the flour add more whole-wheat flour. Knead ten minutes; cover and set in a warm place to rise until twice its original size. Make into small loaves, and each to rise for an hour, then bake.

ECZEMA LODGES IN THE SKIN

Not a Blood Disease—Cured by Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

For many years eczema was supposed to be a blood disease and was erroneously treated as such, but now the best authorities agree that eczema is only a skin disease and must be cured through the skin. The eminent skin specialist, Dr. D. D. Dennis, first discovered the eczema germ and his discovery was quickly taken up in both Germany and France.

To kill the eczema germ and at the same time heal the skin, Dr. Dennis compounded oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc. The remedy is a liquid, not a mere salve, hence it sinks right into the pores of the skin. Washing with this oil of wintergreen compound seems to take the itch away at once; soon the scales drop away and the disease disappears. The prescription has now been used so long as to have proven its absolute merit and we do not hesitate to express our confidence in D. D. D. Prescription.—W. E. Bard Drug Co.

HOMES OF INTEREST

BUILDING LANDMARKS AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Erected Many Years Ago, Some of Them Have Fallen Into Regrettable Decay—History of the Octagon House.

Under the date of June 5, 1663, a land grant was given to one Francis Pope, who, with other Scotch and Irish, immigrated to this country. Pope's patent included Capitol Hill in Washington, and, in his fancy, he saw a great city rise, that should be the rival of ancient Rome. He reared himself a fine home, but, in the succeeding years, this was destroyed, and finally the property came into the possession of Daniel Carroll. It was on this same site that Mr. Carroll built the house afterward known as Duddington Manor. It was this house that made so much trouble for L'Enfant when he was laying out the city, and it remained the home of some members of the Carroll family until 1886, and was one of the landmarks of New Jersey avenue.

A little farther along New Jersey avenue there stands a row of houses built by Thomas Low, who, having amassed a fortune in India, brought to the new country $500,000 in gold. Washington induced him to invest largely in the city of anticipation, and these houses represent a part of that investment. They were originally high-class boarding houses, and sheltered such men as Louis Philippe, Thomas Jefferson, Monroe and many others of equal distinction. It was in one of them that Alexander Hamilton advised the drafting of the measure to establish a United States bank.

Low was said to be a quaint character. He married a Miss Custis, sister Mrs. George W. Parke Custis, the granddaughter of Mrs. Washington. His memory was faulty, and many times he even forgot his own name. On one occasion he locked his wife in an upper chamber of the house and forgot that she was there, keeping her a prisoner over night. Finally she left him and he died in comparative poverty. The houses that he erected in New Jersey avenue long have been used for government offices.

Passing from the site of the Burns homestead, in Seventeenth street, the sightseer comes to the octagon house at Eighteenth and New York avenue. This house was built more than 100 years ago by Col. John Tayloe. His income was princely, and he lived in a manner befitting one of his vast means.

The octagon house stands to-day a hallowed monument to departed chivalry. It was in this house that President Madison and his wife lived after the burning of the White House by the British in 1814. In those days its wide halls rang to the echo of feminine laughter and creaking glasses, for it was the center of the social gayeties of the capital.

Memories of the past still haunt the great rooms of the house. The octagon house is considered one of the haunted houses of the district, and it is said by the credulous that the spirits of the old slaves who died in the pens that were situated in its once capacious grounds still haunt the premises, ringing bells to announce their presence.

Married Women Must Work.

As long as women workers stop work at marriage they will continue to be, as a class, low-paid, over-worked, unskilled, looking only to the day and never to the future, entering industry casually without training, retiring from it unexpectedly without warning, hard to organize into trade unions, hard to interest in technical improvements, hard to inspire with financial ambition, behaving, in every respect, with the utmost good sense, just exactly in the manner in which any class of admittedly and consciously temporary workers should behave. It is hard to believe that such a situation can be right either for women or for industry. The women lose opportunities. Industry loses abilities.—Everybody's.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body.

HAVE PROPER SELF-RESPECT.

One of the Greatest Mistakes Possible to Make is That of Holding Oneself Too Cheap.

Do not hold yourself too cheap. If you do not think well of yourself others are not likely to think much of you. You are usually taken at your own value. By this is not meant a foolish self-conceit, but a proper self-respect.

Have a regard for the esteem of those whose opinion is worth having. No one can be admired by all. He who has no enemies may doubt whether he has real friends. Try to win the regard of the good and the wise; if the foolish take offense pass it by. Think too well of yourself to stoop to anything coarse, mean or untrue. However humble your station in life may be, you may think yourself worthy only of that which is good and true. To be genuine puts you on a high level. Whatever your purse, you may be rich in character. Think yourself worthy of the best to which you can attain. Aim for the highest you see, and should you fail to reach it, you will still be higher than if your aim had been low.

I bought a watch of him the other day. It was a cheap watch. He said: 'What pocket are you going to carry your watch in—the right or left?'"

"I told him the left."

"Then," said he, "I will regulate it for the left."

"I asked what difference it made, and he declared that a watch runs faster on the left side than on the right, so to keep it from gaining time he regulates it accordingly. In fine watches the difference is hardly worth considering, but in watches of cheap make like mine it is very noticeable. I asked for a scientific reason for this variation. He could give none; said he only knew it was true, and then whether he was faking or not, he pretended to regulate my watch for the left pocket."

"Voices From the Streets."

The service last night at the First Baptist church was of increasing interest. Rev. Thomas took for his theme, "Voices From the streets." He said the street was an interesting place to study humanity and to be taught important lessons. On the streets there is a mad rush in business, every man looking forward, and most all pretensions. Here many a broken heart lies deeply buried. After the sermon an earnest appeal was made. One, having made a profession, united with the church. There will be preaching this evening at 8. Everybody is welcome.

Don't drug the stomach or stimulate the heart or kidneys. That's wrong. It is the weak nerves that are crying out for help. Vitalize these weak inside controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and see how quickly good health will come to you again. Test and see! Sold by the W. E. Bard Drug Co.

REPUBLICANS IN CONTROL

First Time in History of Nevada State Hospital for Insane.

Nevada, Mo., May 4.—The state hospital for the insane, in this city, for the first time in its history, is in control of the republicans. Dr. G. C. Wilson, an active republican and physician of Nevada, is the new superintendent. Since the building of the institution it has had a democratic superintendent.

The hospital is the largest of its kind in the state, and there are now more than 1,500 patients under treatment. The building is said to be the largest in the west.

The board today also elected Fred George, of Humansville, secretary, and Dr. J. C. Love, of Pettis county, assistant physician. Dr. Love has been assistant physician at the institution for two years. He is a republican, although he was first employed by a democratic board.

Woods' Liver Medicine is a liver regulator which brings quick relief to sick headache, constipation, biliousness and other symptoms of liver disorders. Particularly recommended for jaundice, chills, fever, malaria. The $1 size contains two and one-half times as much as the 50c size. Sold by W. E. Bard Drug Co.

GET RIGHT KIND OF DUSTER

Subject of More Importance Than is Generally Considered—Cheese-cloth the Best.

Not all housekeepers realize the importance of having the right kind of duster. They will get stiff calico or linen fabrics and rub them over wooden furniture, totally unconscious that they are not doing their general.

Cheese-cloth makes the best general duster for wood, silk for fine ornaments or polished surface and heavy cotton flannel for floors.

The chief objection to the cheese-cloth duster is that it must be hemmed, soils easily and soon gets stinky. A substitute that is quite as good, little more expensive and saves much time is to buy a supply of red bandana handkerchiefs for use as dusters. If these are bought at wholesale they are cheaper and can be disposed of among one's friends.

Men's old silk handkerchiefs should never be thrown away when worn and thin. They are just the thing for dusting the polished surface of the piano, ivory ornaments and fine china and glass bric-a-brac.

The Home.

Embroideries and colored garments should be ironed on the wrong side.

Marble should be washed with ammonia and water rather than with soap and water.

A great many blemishes on wall paper may be removed with a rubber on a lead pencil.

Dried lemon peel sprinkled over coats will destroy any disagreeable odor about the house.

Combs soon warp and break if washed with water. A good stiff nail-brush cleans them well.

The bureau drawer can be made to open easily and noiselessly by rubbing it with common soap.

To cool an oven while baking never leave the door open, but cool it by the drafts or removing one of the plates over the oven.

An India-rubber hot-water bottle is easily cleaned. Wash it well with luke-warm water and soap, rubbing on the soap with a piece of flannel.

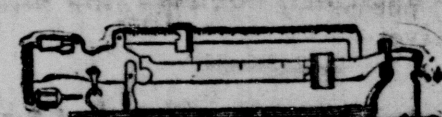

Remove grease stains by saturating the spots with alcohol rather than benzine. Alcohol does not leave a ring around the spot afterward. Wash with cold water.

TO LEARN ENGLISH

YOUNG MEXICAN DETERMINED HE WILL ACQUIRE LANGUAGE.

Clever Use Made of a "Puller In" on Whom He Practiced for Some Days—His Experience in Church.

There is one young Mexican in town who is serious, very, very serious, in his English study, says the Philadelphia North American. He simply is voracious for English, and if he could find some way to dream English he would consider the sleeping hours better spent.

He is persistent all day. Anything that can speak English is his game. While he is ignorant of the purpose of that American institution, the puller in, he was clever enough to see his chance when one of the genus took him by the arm in front of a Sixth avenue clothing shop and begged him to come in.

That man wouldn't try to escape from his practice, he perceived. So for five days he wandered by and was each time eagerly pulled in. On the fifth day of practice he promised to buy 69 overcoats, ten neckties and four suits of clothes "for his friends" the next day, and now that puller in recognizes the sting of the bee and doesn't rush out and find himself giving English lessons to an eager young man.

It was from this professor of Sixth avenue commercial English that the young man acquired all the accent that goes with "a push in the eye."

He and a friend wandered into a church at a Sunday night service. Both are highly polite and when everybody was urged to take a hymn book and stand up and unite in that part of the service the two students of English joined in the hymn.

They thought they found the page or whatever the number was, but neither could read fast enough to sing things strange to them. Neither has cultivated English poetry, but both like music. Both were strong on practice and both did practice so that the two nice old ladies just before them turned around with wonder in their eyes more than once.

Both had but ten cents with them. It was the day before remittance day. They had carefully read out the sign "Free" before entering the church. But before the hymn was sung the minister had told about a cinematograph exhibition in the church the next week and said something about ten cents.

So when the contribution basket appeared in their vicinity and was thrust toward them both thought they would not be let out unless they paid that cinematograph ten cents and gave up their last ten cents and went out into the street dead broke. Now the Mexican is wary of how he rushes into unknown places for practice.

Sick headache, constipation and biliousness are relieved by King's Little Liver Pills. They cleanse the system. Do not gripe. Price 25c. Sold by the W. E. Bard Drug Co.

MISSIONARY'S WIFE PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff—Feared she Would Lose her Hair—Many Treatments were Futile—Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband was a missionary in the Southwest, and we were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies, in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After rubbing the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly into the roots of the hair, I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry, I again rubbed the Cuticura Ointment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 340 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful remedies for torturing, disgusting humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed, when necessary, by mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczema, irritation and inflammation, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, U.S.A. Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

HAD "A HIGH OLD TIME"

TESTIMONY OF SERVANTS REGARDING MRS. HAIN'S CUTTING UP.

WHILE HER SOLDIER HUSBAND WAS AWAY

They Pecked Through Crack and Saw Many Scandalous Acts—Major in Army Tells of Irrational Act of Defendant.

New York, May 4.—High life below stairs contributed several representatives to testify at today's session of the trial of Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., in the supreme court at Flushing. Three negro servants who had been employed in the Hains household at Fort Hamilton during the time that the army officer was absent in the Philippines took the stand to tell of the things they had heard through the doors ajar or had seen through cracks. A boss carpenter from Fort Hancock added his willing mite of testimony, and several non-commissioned officers gave evidence favorable to the defense.

The incursion of the kitchen brigade was attended by much wrangling on the part of lawyers for both sides of the case, a straining of the judicial dignity of the court and repeated raps for order on the part of the court officers.

John F. McIntyre, for the defense, uncaged a vixen in the dark person of Lillie Sawyer, and when he had turned off the flow of her direct testimony he left an embarrassed district attorney to question her. Lillie had not been a witness at the trial of Thornton Jenkins Hains, as were Emma Lavelle and Minnie Rehne, the two other negro maids. She admitted on cross-examination that John S. Shay, who was one of the counsel in the defense of Thornton Hains, had discovered her last December. With the exception of the testimony of this woman the stories of the servants in the Hains household were repetitions of those given at the trial of Thornton Jenkins Hains.

Lillie took the stand with confidence, and on the barest suggestion of a query by McIntyre she launched forth into a fifteen-minute narrative of all that she had seen to pass between Claudia Hains and William E. Annis at Capt. Hains' home during his absence.

The most scandalous details of the tale were set forth. When she had finished Lillie beamed upon McIntyre and the jury. Her cross-examination resulted in nothing but an amusing display of indignation.

Major Timothy D. Kelleher, now attached to the post in Chicago, was one of the new witnesses who had not given testimony at the trial of Thornton Hains. He told of how, on August 5, last, Capt. Hains came before him in the paymaster's office in the Army building on Whitehall street, and abruptly asked for his pay. The captain seemed to be greatly agitated at the time, said the witness, and acted as no sane man would act.

Robert C. Sutton, chief clerk in the paymaster's office, told of the irrational actions of the defendant while in his office on other occasions.

Corporal Edward Simpson of Fort Hamilton, Corporal Charles A. Bryant and Sgt. Arthur Johnson, both of Fort Hancock, gave brief testimony regarding acts of Capt. Hains that

All druggists sell it, 50 cents, or address, The Mother Gray Co., ReRoy, New York.

Boston Baked Beans.

Wash one pint of little white beans and cover them with warm water. Soak over night, in the morning drain and cover with slightly salted water; cook until tender, but not broken; drain and stir into them salt to taste, two teaspoonfuls of dry mustard and a quarter cup of molasses and a quarter of a cup of brown sugar; put into a bean pot and in the center of the beans put half a pound of fat salt pork deeply gashed in several places; pour slowly into the beans a pint of boiling water and add a little more as they need it. Put the pot, closely covered, into the oven and bake slowly for at least four or six hours—longer if possible.

Stewed Rabbit.

To prepare the rabbits for stewing, remove the internal organs, separating the liver from them. Rinse in cold water, cut in pieces and season with a tablespoonful of salt and one-half teaspoonful of pepper. Put a quarter pound larding pork, cut fine, in a kettle over the fire and fry to a light brown. Add a finely chopped onion and the rabbit pieces and cook for half an hour over a slow fire, stirring often. Sprinkle with a tablespoonful of flour, mix with the meat and gravy, pour in a pint of boiling water, cover and simmer until done. Just before serving add the juice of one-half a lemon.

Uncooked French Cream Candy.

Break into a bowl the whites of as many eggs as you think you will need for the amount of candy you wish to make. Add as much cold water as you have egg whites, then stir in XXX powdered or confectioners' sugar until the mixture is stiff enough to mold into shape with the fingers. Flavor with vanilla to taste and form into balls, cubes or lozenges, as you wish. Lay on plates or waxed paper to dry. Do not use ordinary powdered sugar or candy will be a failure if you do.

Hot-Milk Sponge Cake.

Two eggs well beaten, one cup sugar, one cup flour, pinch of salt, two level teaspoons baking powder. This makes a rather stiff dough, and must be beaten till creamy, then add gradually one-half cup hot milk, not boiling, simply hot, and one teaspoon lemon extract. Bake in a moderate oven, in a loaf tin. This is fine and quite cheap also.

How to Boil Turnips.

Turnips, carrots, onions and cabbage should be boiled in a great deal of water, taken off immediately and drained. Too little water will turn the dark, and overcooking destroys the taste.

Lamb Chops.

A remedy for woolly taste of lamb chops. Rub chop thoroughly with a preparation of lemon juice and butter in the proportion of one teaspoonful of butter to two of lemon juice. Broil them; they are delicious.

Drop Biscuit.

Take one quart flour, two heaping teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons melted butter or lard. Stir in enough sweet milk to make stiff batter, drop in hot gem pans and bake in quick oven.

Pains of women, head pains or any pains, stopped in twenty minutes, sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formula on 25c box. Sold by the W. E. Bard Drug Co.

THE CITY FATHERS MET

Alderman Ilgenfritz Wants to Cut Down Library Income.

The bi-monthly meeting of the city council was held last night.

The water and fire committee reported adversely to putting in a water main on Montebau avenue from Broadway to Seventeenth street.

For the second time during his administration, Alderman Ilgenfritz suggested that the city readjust its payment to the public library, recommending that only one-half the amount now paid be given towards that institution. He also urged the strictest economy in the management of the city's affairs.

Reports of the city officers were read and filed. They include the report of Engineer Leaming that the remonstrance against paving Montebau avenue and in the alley in Block No. 44 prevailed.

The matter of amending the ordinance providing for the digging in paved streets was referred to the proper committee.

Resolutions were passed condemning sidewalks on the north side of Pacific street, between Ohio and Lamine avenue, and on the north side of St. Louis street.

A license-levying ordinance, establishing the rate of licenses to be paid by moving picture shows, popcorn, peanut and lunch stands was adopted on motion of Mr. Johnson. The ordinance fixed the moving picture show licenses at $100 per annum, while popcorn, popcorn and lunch stands are taxed $75 a year. The ordinance forbids the use of Ohio avenue and Second and Third streets for the use of the stands.

On motion of Alderman Ilgenfritz, A. W. McKenzie was elected president pro tem of the council, and Charles Dewar was ratified as electrical inspector.

All properly audited bills were allowed.

An ordinance for sidewalks on the north side of Second, between Harrison and Grand avenues, was called for.

The matter of dumping rubbish and

HOW TO GROW FAT

A Lazy Stomach the Cause of Thinness, Nine Times in Ten.

If you are thin or lean, have scrawny arms and neck, you can't grow fat unless your food properly digests.

People take on flesh in proportion to the nutritious matter which the organs of digestion absorb and pass into the blood.

Just as long as this nutritious matter passes along without being absorbed, just so long will you remain thin.

Perhaps your stomach, bowels and liver need a tonic. If your digestion is not perfect Mi-na tablets will put it right at once.

Mi-na will cure indigestion and every conceivable ailment of the stomach promptly. It cures by building and toning up and not by excruciating a tired stomach to continue its shiftless and health destroying habits. It promptly drives away sour stomach, belching of gas, heaviness after eating.

W. E. Bard Drug Co. sells Mi-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees it to cure indigestion, sea and car sickness, vomiting of pregnancy, and all stomach diseases and distress, or money back.

Mi-na is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

For Strength

The Supreme Court Says

in a recent decision about female labor: "The two sexes differ, in structure of body, in the functions to be performed by each, in the amount of physical strength, in the capacity for long-continued labor, etc."

It follows that female weakness, due to these differences in body structure and functions, requires some certain medicine to hit the right spot and that Cardui, the medicine for women, is more likely to be the right thing for women to take, when sick, than a medicine recommended for the two sexes alike.

Try Cardui, for female pain, irregularity, weakness, or misery. It is a specific female remedy, especially recommended for the diseases peculiar to the female sex, a medicine that, in the past 50 years, has benefited over a million—WOMEN.

Try Cardui. Sold everywhere.
